“May God grant you always... A sunbeam to warm you, a moonbeam to charm you, a sheltering Angel so nothing can harm you, Laughter to you. Faithful friends near you and whenever you pray, Heaven to hear you”. - Irish Blessing

“In life, it is never the big battle, the big moment, the big speech, the big election. That does not change things. What changes things is every day, getting up and rendering small acts of service and love beyond that what's expected of you or required of you”. - Cory Booker

Dear friends,

Greetings and Prayerful wishes!

“We live in a wonderful world that is full of beauty, charm and adventure. There is no end to the adventures that we can have if only we seek them with our eyes open”. - Jawaharlal Nehru.

I am very much delighted to meet you through Educatio. Family is an Intuition in which art of living is nurtured and character is formed with the love of the parents and accompaniment of the siblings. Our mother is the first angel who helps us to find out other angel in the family and teaches to embrace others in the society at a large. The principles, values and discipline are developed by education and powerful Role Models. The society is the practical road map for progressing beyond effectiveness. The richness of life is based on the aspiration of a person towards happiness and life fulfillment.

Timeless principles are available in the sacred texts and received from the spiritual leaders to love, live, learn and leave a legacy in life. Those who can feel they have everything within them consider themselves so rich that they need to give others some of the treasures they can no longer contain. So learn to look for inner wealth. To begin with, we may not find a great deal, but gradually we will be dazzled by the abundance and beauty of what we are able to discover. Then our only thought will be to share it with others, and because of this constant need to give we will draw closer to the Divinity.

Everyone is able to rejuvenate a belief system by which one can develop potentials to achieve and sustain greatness. To discover voice in the pursuit of true vision one should design a blue print for both career and personal success. Passion is a key word for growth and commitment of any institution and organization. It is obvious that Greatness lies within each one but how it is exhibited is based on the contribution we make to touch the lives of others. As leaders and mentors how do we inspire others? It is by appreciating the values of people and directing them to foster their values.

To give meaningful and lasting contribution, we need to allow others to give a room to grow and inspire them to realize their full potential. A triumph of the spirit is guiding others and capturing the young minds to desire to be best in everything matters a lot in our mentorship and pedagogy. We ought to train our students to crown with achievement that is lifetime of service. As Mother Teresa states, Let us touch the dying, the poor, the lonely and the unwanted according to the graces we have received and let us not be ashamed or slow to do the humble work.

May the road rise up to meet you, May the wind be ever at your back. May the sun shine warm upon your face and the rain fall softly on your fields. And until we meet again, May God hold you in the hollow of his hand. - Irish Blessing.

The Five W's Of Life

Who you are is what makes you special. Do not change for anyone.

What lies ahead will always be a mystery. Do not be afraid to explore.

When life pushes you over, you push back harder.

Where there are choices to make, make the one you wont regret.

Why things happen will never be certain. Take it in stride and move forward.

10 SPIRITUAL TONICS

- 1. Stop worrying. Worry kills life.
- 2. Begin each day with a prayer. It will arm your soul.
- 3. Control appetite. Over-indulgence clogs body and mind.
- 4. Accept your limitations . . .
- 5. Don't envy. It wastes time and energy.
- 6. Have faith in people. Cynicism sours the disposition.
- 7. Find a hobby. It will relax your nerves.
- 8. Read a book a week to stimulate imagination and broaden your views.
- 9. Spend some time alone for the peace of solitude and silence.
- 10. Try to want what you have, instead of spending your strength trying to get what you want.

The only way to do great work is to love what you do. If you haven't found it yet, keep looking. Don't settle. As with all matters of the heart, you'll know when you find it. --Steve Jobs

The 7 Habits of Highly Effective People by Stephen R. Covey

Habit 1-Be Proactive.

Being proactive is more than taking initiative. It is recognizing that we are responsible for our own choices and have the freedom to choose based on principles and values rather than on moods or conditions. Proactive people are agents of change and choose not to be victims, to be reactive, or to blame others.

Habit 2-Being with the End in Mind.

Individuals, families, teams and organizations shape their own future by first creating a mental vision for any project, large or small, personal or interpersonal. They don't just live day-to-day with no clear purpose in mind. They identify and commit themselves to the principles, relationships and purpose that matter most to them.

Habit 3 – Put First Things First.

Putting first things first means organizing and executing around your most important priorities. Whatever the circumstance, it is living and being driven by the principles you value most, not by the urgent agendas and forces surrounding you.

Habit 4 – Think Win – Win

Thinking win-win is a frame of mind and heart that seeks mutual benefit and mutual respect in all interactions. It's thinking in terms of abundance and opportunity rather than scarcity and adversarial competition. It's not thinking selfishly (win-lose) or like a martyr (lose-win). It's thinking in terms of "we" not "me".

Habit 5 – Seek First to Understand, Then to be understood.

When we listen with the intent to understand others, rather than with the intent to reply, we begin true communication and relationship building. Opportunities to then speak openly and to be understood come much more naturally and easily. Seeking to understand takes consideration; seeking to be understood takes courage. Effectiveness lies in balancing or blending the two.

Habit 6-Synergize

Synergy is the third alternative-not my way, not your way, but a third way that is better than either of us would come up with individually. It's the fruit of respecting, valuing, and even celebrating one another's differences. It's about solving problems, seizing opportunities, and working out differences. It's the kind of creative cooperation of $1+1=3$, $11,111$or more. Synergy is also the key to any effective team or relationship. A synergistic team is a complementary team –where the team is organized so that the strengths of some compensate for the weaknesses of others. In this way you optimize and run with strengths and make individual weaknesses irrelevant.

Habit 7-Sharpen the Saw

Sharpening the saw is about constantly renewing ourselves in the four basic areas of life: physical, social/emotional, mental and spiritual, it's the habit that increases our capacity to live all other habits of effectiveness.

Success is a state of mind. If you want success, start thinking of yourself as a success. - Joyce Brothers

THE FIRST THREE HABIT can be summarized in a very simple four word expression: Make and keep promises. The ability to make a promise is proactivity (Habit 1). The content of the promise is Habit 2, and keeping the promise is Habit 3.

The next three complementary -team Habits can be summarized in a short phrase: Involve people in the problem and work out the solution together. This necessitates mutual respect (Habit 4), mutual understanding (Habit 5) and creative cooperation (Habit 6).Habit 7, sharpen the Saw, is your competency in the four areas of life: body, mind, heart and spirit. It's renewing one's personal integrity and security (Habits 1, 2 and 3) and renewing the spirit and character of the complementary team
 Here is a chart that describes the principles and paradigms of each of the 7 Habits (see table 3)

PRINCIPLES AND PARADIGMS EMBODIED IN THE 7 HABITS

| Habit | Principle | Paradigm |
|---|-------------------------------|--------------------------|
| Be Proactive | Responsibility/ Initiative | Self determination |
| Being with the End in mind | Vision /Values | Two Creations/Focus |
| Put First Things First | Integrity/ Execution | Priority/Action |
| Think Win-Win | Mutual Respect/ Benefit | Abundance |
| Seek First to Understand Then to be Understood | Mutual Understanding | Consideration Courage |
| Synergize | Creative Cooperation | Value Differences |
| Sharpen the saw | Renewal | Whole Person |

I am your constant companion. I am your greatest helper or heaviest burden. I will push you onward or drag you down to failure. I am completely at your command. Half the things you do you might just as well turn over to me, and I will be able to do them quickly, correctly. I am easily managed- you must merely be firm with me.

Show me exactly how you want something done, and after a few lessons I will do it automatically, am the servant of all great people; and alas, of all failures as well. Those who are failures, I have made failures, am not a machine, though I work with all the precision of a machine plus the intelligence of a human being. You may run me for a profit or turn me for ruin-it makes no difference to me.

Take me, train me, be firm with me, and I will place the world at your feet. Be easy with me and I will destroy you.

Who am I? I am habit

It is more important to be human than to be important- Rev. Fr. V. Joseph Xavier. S.J
